8. IX. 04

Mr. Lakshminarasihma Rao, B.A., B.L., Assistant Census Superintendent, having completed his work, has been sent back by Mr. Ananda Rao, as he no longer requires his services. Mr. Lakshminarasihma Rao's permanent appointment, before he joined the Census Office, was that of an Examiner in the Comptroller's Office on ₹100-10-150. At the time he left the Comptroller's Office in April 1901, he was actually drawing ₹120. He has already passed the Mysore Account Examination which is similar to the Madras Lower Account Examination. In consideration however, of the high qualifications possessed by him, it is desirable that he should undergo a course of training in the Madras Accountant General's Office and pass the Higher Departmental Examination of the Government of India, which will be held next year. If he had remained in the Comptroller's Office, he would have risen to the maximum pay of his grade in the beginning of the current year. He may, therefore, be given the maximum pay of ₹150 plus an allowance of ₹50. Mr. Ananda Rao has reported that his work in connection with the Census was satisfactory. Mr. Eagles considers that it would be an advantage if Mr. Lakshminarasihma Rao undergoes a course of training in a British Account Office and passes the higher examination. He will, if he thus qualifies himself, be eligible for

of the higher appointments in the Act Department.

The Councillors are requested to rd their opinions in the matter.
